

Coleman Carnival Club Organized— Members Admitted to Carnival Free Ticket Sales for Car and Washing Machine Going Fast— Splendid Assortment of Prizes for Various Booths—Attend the Carnival the Cause is a Worthy One!

In order to offset as much as possible the effects of the travelling carnival, imported by Blainmore for the occasion, the Coleman Carnival Club has been organized. The sole object of this club is to see that local money remains at home where it will do the most good. Membership is free and all members will be admitted to the carnival free gratis and for nothing. Each member attending the carnival will be furnished with a numbered ticket and each night a prize will be given to the holder of the ticket bearing the number drawn from a suitable receptacle in the presence of the audience. All members undertake to refrain from patronizing the outside show and to endeavour to thereby set a good example to other members of the community.

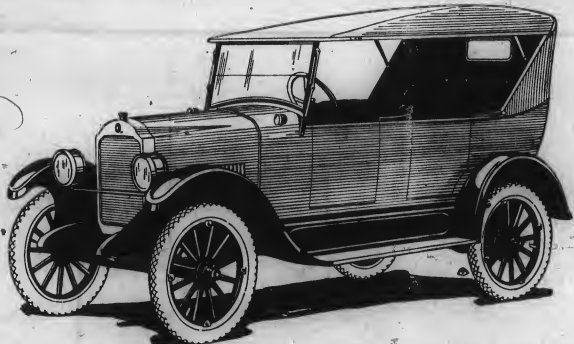

The sale of tickets on the car and washing machine is reported to be good, in fact many of those selling tickets have disposed of all that were given to them. It should be remembered that the more tickets one has the better the chance of securing a prize.

It is confidently expected that enough will be realized at the Carnival to enable the committee to arrange for the commencement of work on the swimming pool practically at once. The committee in charge of the booths has arranged for a selection of prizes for the House House which is without doubt the most comprehensive collection of gifts ever before offered for a similar enterprise. The dolls selected for prizes came from an assortment which had been prepared for the G. A. R. celebration at Wausaukee, Michigan. Unfortunately this celebration was not able to be held owing to circumstances over which the authorities had no control and the largest selection of dolls ever offered for a like object was placed before the committee. Needless to say the Coleman Carnival management ever alert to secure the best for their patrons seized upon this opportunity with the result that a dazzling array of magnificent dolls will be offered as prizes.

for insignificant investments and the holders of the lucky tickets will have a choice from an unparalleled assortment of beauties free of all cost except the trifling sum required for a ticket.

In the excitement of the Carnival the object for which it is being held should not be lost sight of. A swimming pool is not a luxury but a necessity and all citizens should devote their energies to furthering this project. Many a life has been saved because the person concerned has been able to learn to swim in safe surroundings such as are engaged in a swimming pool. If therefore you are solicited to buy a ticket do not forget that although you may not be in immediate need of a washing machine or an automobile the small sum asked for is to be used for a very worthy object so give till it hurts and then some as your subscription may be the means of some child learning to swim and being able to enjoy the benefits it do not otherwise be able to do.

Shortage of Cars Slows Up Mines.

Owing to the heavy demand for empty cars on the prairie to carry the wheat crop to market, the mines in Coleman commenced working on short time last Wednesday. This is the first slack period here since the mines re-opened under the new arrangement in April, and it is confidently expected that just as soon as the railway company can release cars after the first of the grain rush is over, working conditions in the mines here will again improve.

She Misunderstood

Notice was given out in church that a Retreat would be held the next week, and that certain meals would be free. Two old women looked at each other, and one said, "Still out?" the other answered, "Yes." Next Sunday the curate announced he was afraid some had misunderstood the notice, as it was not a Retreat that was going to be held, but a Retreat.

Our Fourth Anniversary

With this issue The Journal has rounded another milestone in its life as a Coleman institution, and we are now headed towards our fifth birthday.

During the four years which have passed The Journal, in common with other business firms in Coleman, has had its ups and downs. At times we have thought the downs outnumbered the ups, nevertheless we have kept sailing, and have so far avoided all the shoals that beset our craft on the turbulent sea of journalism.

Just what the future may hold in store we cannot say, neither are we worrying. Our energies will, as in the past, be devoted to serving our readers and advertisers to the best of our ability.

To all those who have in any way assisted us in maintaining The Journal during the past, we tender our sincere appreciation, and trust that we will still merit a continuance of their support this year and in the years to come.

Coleman To Have B. P. O. E. Lodge

A branch of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is shortly to be instituted in Coleman, according to information given The Journal by Mr. Robert Grey, district organizer for this well known and highly regarded organization.

To date over one hundred of the leading citizens of Coleman have signed applications for membership in the order, and it is confidently expected that the final charter list will reach at least one hundred and twenty-five members by the time the lodge is instituted on Wednesday evening, Sept. 2nd.

Owing to the absence of Mr. Whiteside in Vancouver the contract price and time of construction was not obtainable, but it is quite likely the outlay will approach two hundred thousand dollars and take between five and six months to complete.

Stop! Look! Listen!

Within the short space of less than the life of a generation the automobile has worked a complete revolution in modes of transportation and in the lives of people. But owing to the recklessness of so many drivers of cars it has become a veritable nightmare to locomotive engineers. To a greater extent than anything else it is the cause of nervous breakdowns among trainmen.

This is the age of speed, and thousands of motorists delight in tearing along roads and over railway crossings at top speed although there is no need for haste. They ignore the fact that there is more real pleasure to be derived from leisurely driving, and that a moment's stop at a level railway crossing to allow an approaching train to pass is not lost time. They scorn the risk they themselves run, and every year hundreds pay the full penalty of their folly, while other hundreds have cause to remember in pain and a permanently crippled condition the terrible prices they are paying on account of their heedlessness.

But there is another side to the picture, and a locomotive engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad has written an article appearing in "The Outlook" in which he describes just what the reckless motorist, who tries to "beat" an express train to the crossing, costs the engineer in nerve stability, and the consequent danger to every passenger on the train. This article is so illuminating and timely that it is worthy of reproduction in its entirety.

"Come and take a ride with me in the car," he writes, "I would like to drive for at the rate of fifty miles an hour, which means that sometimes she will go considerably faster than that. There will be thrills. Perhaps I should tell you in advance that I do not want many trips.

"There are grade-crossings, you know. The crossings are not dangerous, but the automobile creates a danger at them. I do not want many trips, but I did not have from one to three close calls. At practically every grade crossing without guard gates some driver goes over after the whistle has been sounded, and where there are guard-gates, they sometimes smash them down and go over just the same. Perhaps you will understand the nature of the thrills better if I give you one or two specific instances.

"On the fifteenth of last January I took my run out at 5.41 a.m. An hour later, I was driving along at reduced speed, probably forty miles an hour. I whistled long and loud for a particularly bad crossing. When within about 150 feet of the crossing I saw lights bobbing around on the planks. That indicated an automobile in motion. My freeman, as I afterwards learned, was looking directly at the car. It did not occur to him at first that the driver would try to get across. Then he saw him give her the gas. Those bobbing lights, however, had enabled me to divine the driver's intention. I snapped the brake valve to full emergency position.

"We were three hundred feet past the crossing when the train stopped, but the emergency application of the brakes had stayed the engine the instant that it took for the automobile to get over those rails. The freeman, in a tremendous voice asked me, 'Did he get over?' I answered, 'Yes, he did.' The freeman got up from his seat, came over to the gangway at the right side, and, talking as though that driver might be getting every word, said, 'Well, fellow, you one but God saved you.'

"From that instant for the balance of the trip there was an engineer in the cab whose nerves were not fit for his job. Little clicks and knocks were so magnified as to make it impossible to make anything out of them. The engine was falling to pieces. While crossing a foreign railroad at grade, and having the steam to proceed, one of the foreign railroad's engines started to blow off steam. I started involuntarily, and it was only with difficulty that I forced myself to remain in the cab.

"Another time before that, after I had stopped the whistle for the crossing, two automobiles shot across, one right after the other, at about forty miles an hour. I was thinking how much better judgment those fellows would have displayed if they had stopped and waited only one minute for my train to pass when the freeman shouted to me, 'There's another!' Like a flash, a large coupe went across at about sixty miles an hour. In that coupe was a little girl about five years old on her knees looking out the rear window. A woman, doubtless her mother, was at the wheel. To me, it looked as though the woman was not thinking of her child, but only of not being outdone by those other two cars—or by that train, either."

"This engineer concludes by asking: 'Were you ever held up at the point of a gun?' I never was, but I have heard men describe the situation. The hole in the gun-barrel looked as big as a washbowl, the bullets the size of cannonballs. But that feeling, when contrasted with that of the engineer when he is about to strike an automobile, is about as placid as the waters of the Amazon compared with Niagara Falls."

Possibly it is too much to expect a motorist, who risks his own life and the lives of his companions in a car, to give the slightest consideration to the locomotive engineer, or to the hundreds of passengers on the train whose safety depends upon the steady nerve of the engineer. But what grim tragedy would be prevented and suffering avoided if people would only realize that there is nothing "smart" in being a reckless fool.

Plan Labor School

Efforts will be made to form a labor college for British Columbia during the sessions of a school of social studies, which has been opened at Summerland, B.C. Men and women from all parts of the Canadian west, from as far east as Winnipeg, are scheduled to attend the meetings.

The older we grow the greater the lack of knowledge we discover in others.

Farmer Anderson: "So your boy's not home from college. Does he take any interest in the farm?" Farmer Gray: "It's beginning to. He's been showing me where we could have a fine golf course an' how easy 'twould be to turn the barn into a garage."

A honeytender had rather a grim experience the other day. He received an unsolicited letter and, after paying the fee, found it contained a circular from another honeytender.

Tariff Experiment Fails

Irish Free State Will Likely Drop Most of Duties

The Dublin correspondent of the London Westminster Gazette says the tariff experiment started by the Irish Free State about two years ago has failed so signally that it is likely most of the duties will be dropped. The idea was, of course, to protect and foster Irish manufacturers, but, the correspondent writes, foreign goods have not been excluded, while prices naturally have risen and the consumers paid the penalty.

He cites the motor car trade among those especially affected, saying the purchase of cars has diminished considerably, while all goods, except tobacco and household furniture, have suffered and several Dublin firms have been unable to pay their way.

Its Quality Tells It.—The fact that so many thousands of intelligent people continue to use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil speaks volumes for its healing efficiency. Ever since it was first introduced it has grown steadily in popularity, owing entirely to its manifold usefulness in relieving and healing sickness. As a specific for cuts, burns, scalds, and various inflammations, its record is beyond reproach.

Best Took Photograph

A camper in one of the national parks in United States, had just set up a tripod to take some pictures of mountain scenery. A bear suddenly appeared and the amateur photographer started running down the mountain side. When the shot was developed later, it was found that the bear in some way had tripped the shutter of the camera and had taken a good picture of the man running down the mountain side.

Stop the Cough.—Coughing is caused by irritation in the respiratory passages and is the effort to dislodge obstructions that come from inflammation of the mucous membrane. Treatment with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will allay the inflammation and in consequence the cough will usually stop. Try it and you will be satisfied.

A Freak Lightning Bolt

Bolt Doing Damage In Truro, N.S.
From a cloudless sky a bolt of lightning, accompanied by a deafening thunder, descended upon Walker Street in Truro, N.S., shattered a tree, entered a house via the telephone wires, burned a telephone box, and left by an open door, in which a young child was standing.

The child was unharmed, but a pedestrian on Walker Street, was stunned and several others were shocked, while telephone instruments a quarter of a mile away were put temporarily out of commission.

There was but one bolt of lightning and one clap of thunder and though it all the sun shone brilliantly and not a cloud was to be seen. A similar occurrence was recorded there three years ago.

Miller's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases pain may be caused, that is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property.

Eagles Travel By Aeroplanes

Two Birds Develop Ravenous Appetite On Unaccustomed Flight

A pair of golden eagles, presented to the Zoological Garden at Scheveningen by King Ferdinand of Rumania were shipped to their destination in an aeroplane. This unique mode of transporting the two sovereigns of the air was employed by orders of the royal dominion, who wished his gift to arrive as a surprise. The only effect this unaccustomed flight seemed to have had on the two birds was to give them a ravenous appetite.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST 30

PAUL AND THE PHILIPPIN JAILOR

Golden Text: Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved. Acts 16:31.
Lesson: Acts 16:1-40.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 40:1-5, 11-13.

The Text Explained and Illumined

The sojourning maid of Philippi, verses 16:18.—Some time after coming to Philippi, as Paul and his companions went to the place of prayer where he was wont to preach, he was annoyed by a fortune-telling maid who kept crying out after them. Her monomaniacal chant disturbed him, and drew an uncomfortable crowd of curiosity seekers. Day after day she cried: "This man is a servant of the Most High God, who proclaimed unto you the way of salvation." In the margin of the Revised Version the alternative translation for "a sooth-saying maid" given is "a maid having a spirit, a Python." The great dragon at Delphi slain by Apollo was called a Python, and according to Plutarch so also at this time was a ventriloquist. Dr. Ramsay says that "God the Highest" was a widespread pagan expression, and "salvation" was the object of many vows and prayers to the gods. He further says that the slave girl's mind became distorted and diseased by her belief in her super-natural possession, but it became all the more acute in certain perceptions and intuitions, and she became at once alive to the moral influence which the intense faith of the strangers gave them.

Paul in the name of Jesus Christ bade the spirit leave her. And she was freed. "Paul's power over her was not necessarily miraculous; it was that of a good man over a sensitive nature. This slave girl became the second Christian convert in Philippi and led up to another conversion 'equally strange'."

Canada May Benefit

Englishman Left Fortune For Charity In United Kingdom

Nearly 250,000 pounds sterling for charity has been bequeathed by Col. J. Barlow, a magnificent supporter, in his lifetime, of his country.

Col. Barlow made many visits to Canada in connection with rifle shooting. Canada may benefit under his will, as he left the residuary estate "to be applied, within 21 years of his decease, for such charitable purposes within the United Kingdom, Ireland, or any British state, colony, or dependency, i.e. the trustees, in their wisdom, think best."

The will adds that Col. Barlow desires that no money left by him shall be used for sectarian or political party purposes.

ALSO CONCEALED ELECTION WILL BE HELD THIS FALL

Ottawa.—Although officially nothing has been announced and may not be for a fortnight, there is no doubt now of a general election this fall. It will not come early and may be as late as November, but it is coming.

All the preparatory signs were evident following the cabinet council of the last week and the character of personal interviews. Organizers and members have been here and have left in a hurry, returning officers are being appointed, conventions held here and there and other activities clearly indicate the course in view. The cabinet has a large number of private members have sought another session but it is not clear to the supporters of the ministry how this process could possibly be of political benefit, whereas it might be fruitful with danger to all intents and purposes the campaign is now on in a preliminary way.

Very probably the official formula will not be completed with until after the government general election, September 4, but today's symptoms and the tone of all the gossip exclude discussion as to what is coming. Discussion will be attended by cabinet reconstruction. Fiddie, Copp and Bureau anyway are going out. The question there may be two others. Selection of their successors depends on several things and for the moment the outcome is obscure.

After cabinet consultations the decision was left to Premier King. There is no doubt, from what has happened meanwhile, that he has decided to appoint to the people. Official action, however, may not be taken till next month.

Elections will not be before October 20 and conceivably somewhat later.

Production In Canada

Canada Produced Over $200,000,000 In Commodities In 1923

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada produced a net value of $205,000,000 in commodities in one year, according to a report just issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics, as estimated on the basis of statistics compiled by its various branches.

The value was produced by approximately two-thirds of the gainfully employed persons in the Dominion, those engaged in the various kinds of "production," defined according to the usual acceptance of the term as including agriculture, forestry, fisheries, trapping, mining and manufacturing, etc.

The value of $205,000,000 in question, which covers 1923, represents an increase of 2.8 per cent. over the previous year.

Ontario contributed 39.7 of the Canadian total. Quebec held second place with Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia and Manitoba followed in the order given.

Determining Sanity Of Scott

Case Appears to be Puzzling Specialist Who is Investigating

Chicago.—Rufus T. Scott is described as an "indeterminate case," possibly a paranoiac subject to delusions of persecution, by Dr. Stubbledick, superintendent of the Chester Hospital for the criminal insane. "I don't know whether he is sane or insane," Dr. Stubbledick was quoted in a special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune from Chester, where the convicted murderer of a Chicago drug clerk recently was taken after a jury had decided that he had become insane. "It is too early to tell yet."

Scott has begun to take up writing. "I am trying to analyze my case," he said. "I suppose in one way I had all this coming to me. No one ever took such fine things as I had—home and wife and children and friends and business opportunities—and threw them away more recklessly."

Return Russian Warships

French Government Decides to Hand Ships Over to Soviets

Paris.—The French government has decided to hand over the Russian warships now at Brest to the Soviets. The Soviets, in an agreement drawn up by Ambassador Krasin and Deputy Vincent Daniloff, the French delegate, negotiate the transfer of $1,800,000,000 and give French capitalists a contract to reconstruct Russia in return for huge French credits. The Soviets promise every one of the four million French francs holders ten per cent. of his holdings in new Soviet bonds and ninety per cent. in bonds of new Franco-Russian companies, which will be formed to exploit mines, forests, factories and oil fields in Russia. However, it is understood that the whole debt has been reduced from gold to paper francs.

Urga, Mongolia.—The Mongolian government has ordered the third Asiatic expedition of the American Museum of Natural History, under the leadership of Roy Andrews, to cease its exploration and scientific work and to leave Mongolian territory, alleging the terms of his agreement with Mongolian scientific organizations.

Mr. Andrews, also is accused of carrying on political propaganda and stirring up the Monoplists against the Red Bolsheviks.

Shipping Flowers To England

Canadian Blooms Are a Surprise to English People

Ottawa, Ont.—Reports indicate that thousands of cut flower blooms are now being shipped to England from Canada. From Montreal a landscape gardener has sent over 8,000 peony blooms, ablaze with a riot of colors, to England to grace the offices of the C.N.R. and C.P.R. at Wembley.

It is customary for flowers shipped from Canada to England to be kept in cold storage, arriving with the freshness of the Maple Leaf's fertility. English people are noted for their fondness of flowers, but the Canadian blooms have proved a surprise. The Canadian peonies have proven to have a far more flourishing bloom than the peony grown in the Old Country.

Worried Over Polish German Trade War

Danzig Business Men Do Not Profit By Exemptions

Danzig.—The trade war between Poland and Germany now in progress may have one beneficial result in the opinion of many Danzig business men. If it will mean the defection of Upper Silesian coal to the countries bordering along the Baltic Sea, which were formerly a part of the Russian Empire, such a defection would, in their opinion, prove an advantage to four interlocking groups; the Poles would have a promising new market in exchange for the German; Danzig would gain much new business as the shipping port; the Baltic countries would obtain fuel more cheaply than they can now get; English coal; Germany could dispose of her Ruhr coal without the interference of Upper Silesian coal competition.

The people of Danzig are the innocent victims of another phase of the war between Germany and Poland. Goods of purely Danzig origin may go to Germany unimpeded and in return foodstuffs and other articles intended purely for Danzig are permitted to come into the Free zone exempt.

As a matter of fact there are practically no goods of purely Danzig origin, consequently exempting that class of merchandise affords little comfort to the Danzig business man.

NORTH COUNTRY RAILWAY NEEDS TO BE CONSIDERED

Calgary.—There is a large productive territory in that north country, which includes not only the Peace River district proper but the district north of the Peace, whose traffic possibilities we cannot and will not ignore," said Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railway, in replying to a question regarding the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway.

In connection with the running of the line either by the Canadian Pacific or the Canadian National, Sir Henry stated another conference was to be called by the board.

Asked what foundation there was for the persistent rumors in the east that there is a possibility of the Canadian Pacific and the Government lines fusing, Sir Henry replied that had been talked about, but that there was nothing yet of a tangible character. It is a very large and many sided question and it should be viewed solely with respect to the welfare of the Dominion as a whole, he said.

He added that personally he was not in a position to express any opinion at all.

"The latest information is that you will remain in Canada," it was suggested.

"There has been no discussion at all with respect to the continuance of my work here," said Sir Henry, "and it is a naturally a matter that is in the hands of the proper persons." Asked who the latter were, Sir Henry said he supposed that in the last analysis they were the people of Canada.

FUNNING OF THE BELGIAN DEBT TO UNITED STATES

Brussels, Belgium.—Great reserve to the way, the Belgian press is commenting on the news from Washington of the agreement reached there for funding the Belgian debt to the United States.

Victor de Meulemeester emphasizes the conditional character of the proposed arrangement and recalls the manner in which the American Senate refused to honor the signature of President Wilson's peace treaty.

The paper questions whether Belgium is to be congratulated on the terms reached at Washington, even if the conditions as outlined in the dispatch received here are confirmed. London—Official circles here are optimistic today regarding the settlement reached in Washington for funding Belgium's debt to the United States.

The impression made by the proposed favorable nature of the terms is to be expected, and that unless close study revealed new angles at the present time, the British Government, in the present moment, is prepared of refraining from pressing Belgium in connection with her financial obligations to this country.

Criticizes Canada's Navy

Sarcastic Article Appears in Weekly Paper in London

London.—A writer in Truth, the weekly paper which frequently comments upon the paucity of Canada's contribution to the British navy, says: "The impression made by the article was very much displeased with me for quoting the precise figures of the Dominion's contribution to the sea power of the empire, I think it right to state that the Dominion's contribution is very much less than one-half of the strength of the Canadian navy has now put to sea to cruise in company with the Cape Horn of the North American squadron. In other words, the destroyer fleet has left her moorings at Reginald and will not return until the beginning of October."

"What the other half of the active Canadian navy is doing I have no information at the present moment, but I believe she is assuring the safety of Halifax."

SCHOOL AGAIN

The Coleman schools begin the fall term on Tuesday, September 1st. The summer season has been warm but on the whole quite refreshing. Many Coleman people have returned from vacations, and many of them bring children back from the land of summer dreams to the realities of class-room routine. But the children are ready. They will hustle about to get books, tablets, pencils and "pen-swabbers" as eagerly as they sought last spring to acquire fish-hooks, baseballs, tennis rackets and camping kits.

It is a wholesome social institution—the public school. It calls to work when work is due, and relieves to play when play is earned. The teachers, as a class, provide a moral tone that can not be equalled outside the church and home. The teachers are the joint guardians of future adult citizens. Who does not harken back with joy to school days where noble impressions are indelibly written into the book of life! Coleman may well be proud of its school system and of those who direct the education of its youth.

LABOR DAY

On Monday, September 7, the nation pays its respects to Labor. It is a holiday for people who work. How broad can this definition of labor be made? Naturally, as well as customarily, the man with the overalls and dinner pail is expected to lead the parade. But who else ought to be given a position in the great parade of humanity seeking recognition because of the willingness as well as of the necessity of earning a living by the sweat of the brow?

The mother who cooks the meals, keeps the house and nurtures the children ought to be in that parade.

The humblest shoveler of dirt is entitled to carry a banner alongside the skilled mechanic.

The man or woman who toils in store and office, the look-keeper, the writer, the preacher, the editor, the doctor, the educator, the farmer—all must fill the ranks if we are to have labor day stand for all that it should.

Sweat is no respecter of garments.

The honest and thrifty promoter works no less than his laboring brother in creating and promoting those worthy enterprises that give employment to men, homes to women and milk to babies, and that help make the wheels of the world go round.

Indeed, even the "idle rich" may so control their wealth that it may be put to use, not only in accomplishing the means of more profit, but by allocating their benevolences for the advancement of science, the promotion of health, the increasing of happiness, and the elimination of class consciousness. This itself is a profession—an attainment. This is constructive effort which is work.

The heart, no less than the head and hand, fulfills the proper destinies of labor.

Labor Day stands not only in commemoration of those who have toiled, but it stands to dedicate the nation to the principal that extreme youth and frail womanhood shall not toil to the detriment of themselves and society.

The true significance of labor day fails unless these obligations are imposed, and unless all who engage in honest labor are entitled to a rightful place in its celebration.

Advertising and Art

Art has now entered into advertising to such an extent that no one who has the gift of drawing or illustrating and the willingness to work need be without gainful employment. It is noticeable, also, that while there is still an aversion to the commercialization of art on the part of many artists of the old school, other artists of prominence have pronounced as ethical and encouraged as practical the dabbling of the artist's brush into the inkwells of business. And why not? Art in advertising is as irrefragable as advertising itself is needful. Millions of people seldom see an art gallery, but they should have the opportunity to recognize genius in the everyday display of the things in which they are interested.

Pola Negri, movie star, has finally redeemed her $47,000 worth of jewels seized by customs officials last May when she "forgot" to declare them. Besides paying the value of the jewels, it cost the popular actress the neat sum of $10,000 in fines and duties. All of which shows the high cost of forgetting.

When th' frost is on th' Pumpkin and th' fodder's in th' shock, Cost o' livin' keeps a Jumpkin and my auto's in th' hock; O it keeps a feller Humpkin—feed in' all th' bloom'n' dock. When th' frost is on th' Pumpkin and th' fodder's in th' shock.

Enterprise, eternal vigilance and hard work is the difference between a newspaper man and a newspaper-man. And if a play on words would permit, this might be fixed up to suit any line of business.

"I'm in love with a certain girl; shall I marry her?" wrote a young man to his lawyer. "No," wrote back the lawyer. "only ministers and Justices of the Peace have the right to do such a thing."

I parked on the bridge at midnight, but I didn't park there very long; for along came a truck, my fiver it struck, and this is why fivers go wrong.

A great authority says advertising is the backbone of business. Does he infer, then, that a business that does not advertise is spineless?

Character analysis: when a banker smiles, someone's paid; when he frowns, someone's delayed.

Another rule for success: be sure you're tight then go ahead.

When it comes to vitamins few of us know our ABC's.

Problems of a democracy: figuring income tax.

The language of flowers: money talking.

Too much motion springs from emotion.

Famous first words: "Enymail?"

"Oh Johnny dear," said his best girl, the day after he had returned from a fishing excursion to North Fork. "I wish you would show me that wonderful fish you caught. I had not heard the name before, so I looked it up in the dictionary. It is a large flat fish, something like a magnified flounder, is it not?"

"What in thunder are you talking about?" "I only caught a few ordinary trout."

"Why Johnny, I heard some women talking about a lovely skate you had brought back with you."

"Oh, yes, ha, ha; to be sure. I certainly had one but this morning it was gone."

"That's tough, Johnny."

"That expresses my feelings exactly. I feel darn tough."

"But you can easily get another, Johnny dear?"

"You bet I can."

A Jonah Story

Scene: Question time at a Christian evidence meeting, after a well-known Bishop had spoken.
"My Lord, do you honestly believe that Jonah lived for three days and three nights in the interior of a whale?"
"Well, I don't know, but if I should go to heaven I will ask him."
"But suppose Jonah is not in heaven?"
"Then, my friend, you can ask him yourself."

Talk Up Your Town.

To hear every person saying something pleasant about its people and its interests is the surest way to make a town attractive to a stranger.

At your own table and fireside, talk up your town. Among your friends and neighbors talk up your town, and when you come in contact with strangers, talk strongest of all—for your town.

The 1,004 concerns in Canada engaged in the manufacture of iron and steel and their products in 1924 had a combined production valued at $988,476,650, according to a preliminary statement of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The industry represents a total capital investment of $585,839,888.

Warning to Broadcasters

A clergyman was delivering a broadcast sermon, and ended the oration with the words, "And we shall understand these things better, dear friends, on that happy day when we all meet in heaven," then, turning to the operator, he added, "I don't think I spoke too quickly." Unfortunately the operator was a few seconds too late in cutting off the transmitter, with the result that the clergyman's concluding sentence was picked up by the startled listeners in the following form: "And we shall understand these things better, dear friends, on that happy day when we all meet in heaven—I don't think."

Here and There

The first batch of last winter's unsold goods from the Far North by the steamer "Distributor," from Alaska, has arrived at Edmonton, and is valued at approximately $1,000,000. Good catches of salmon were reported throughout the area.

Salmon fishing around Vancouver, B.C., for the first three weeks of the current season, while not as active as last year, has, so far, resulted in fairly good catches. The latest reports indicate a catch to date of 55,000 cases, which is 2,000 cases less than last year.

While the members of Dean Sinclair Laird's party of school teachers from Ontario is returning East from their tour of the country the party of British teachers, who landed in Canada recently, is now travelling through the West on a special Canadian Pacific train to gain knowledge of the country and information concerning its resources.

Construction of the half million dollar storage and power dam on the Muskoka River, authorized at its last session by the Ontario Legislature, has been commenced. The proposed work is designed to control the flow from the Muskoka Lakes basin and will enable the linking up of power development in that district with the Eugene-Severn system.

Passenger traffic over Western Lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway to date this summer has been particularly heavy, and a large number of special trains and special cars being operated for British, Canadian and American tourists. Lake side and summer tourist travel to the annual exhibition at Saskatoon and other Western points required the operation of special trains.

Construction of one of the largest and most modern departmental stores at Winnipeg, Man., by the Hudson's Bay Company will be proceeded with immediately, according to an announcement by Mayor Webb of that city. A start upon the company's building programme here was assured, stated Mayor Webb, with the passing of a by-law by the City Council providing for a memorial boulevard flanking the Hudson's Bay property.

Interesting Announcement

Word comes from Montreal that that great family and farm paper The Family Herald and Weekly Star has been enabled to reduce its subscription price to One Dollar a year. This certainly will be interesting news in every Canadian home where the Family Herald is known and to many who will avail themselves of the offer. At Two Dollars a year The Family Herald and Weekly Star was generally admitted to be good value, in fact big value, but when reduced to One Dollar a year it will certainly be the marvel of the newspaper world.

Canada is proud of that great Weekly, and has every reason to be so, as it has no superior and few equals in the world today. The Publishers announce that, notwithstanding the change in price every feature will not only be maintained but improvements will follow. The Publishers are fortunate in being in an unusual position to do this, and Canadian homes will have the advantage. When the new rate is made known it certainly will bring a rush of subscribers to the Family Herald. One Dollar is a small amount for such a great paper.

Maybe He Couldn't Tell

To test the efficiency of a new postal employee, the post office inspector purposely dispatched a letter to the address of a man who had died recently. In due time the letter was returned, marked, "Moved, Left no Address."

Micawber Said It

London Sunday Express: Nations that refuse to make both ends meet sooner or later become miserable bankrupts. It is the same with individuals. There are poor men who live the happy life by balancing their budget every week. There are rich men who are miserable because they always overspend their income. These are platitudes, but they are pitiless platitudes. They cannot be defied or evaded.

The country is not standing still and if you want to go along, just keep up.

As I Go On My Way

My life shall touch a dozen lives before this day is done—
Leave countless marks for good or ill as sets this evening's sun.
Shall fair or foul its imprint prove, on those my life shall fall?
Shall benison my impress be, or shall a blight prevail?

Does love through every handclasp flow in sympathy's career?
Does that I have greeted know a new-born hopefulness?
Are tolerance and charity the key, note of my song

As I go plodding onward with earth's eager, anxious throng?

My life must touch a million lives in some way ere I go
From this dear world of struggle to the land I do not know.

So this the wish I always wish, the prayer I ever pray:
Let my life help the other lives it touches by the way!

—Strickland Gillilan in "Laugh It Off"

The Cranbrook Courier says: The Wardner news in this week's Courier contains a bit of information well worth pondering over. A lad of that town found an overcoat on the public highway, in the pocket of which was a wallet containing several hundred dollars, without any marks whatever to identify same. The lad turned the money over to his mother, who, upon learning that a tourist had returned to Wardner seeking the lost money turned over same to him. The crux of the story lies in the reward given for the return of the money. This kindly hearted individual handed the boy 20 cents for his honesty. If this tourist does not die from enlargement of the heart, it will be no fault of his own. The least his kindly heart should have prompted him to give would be $25.00.

Effects Great Saving

New Invention Saves Oil Company
50,000,000 Gallons of Gasoline a Year

"Breathing losses" of gasoline, estimated at 50,000,000 gallons a year by the bureau of mines, are being rapidly cut down by "breathing haps" developed for gasoline tanks by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, according to a statement made public by the American Chemical Society.

"Breathing losses" are the evaporation of gasoline in tanks due to the sun's heat. This must be allowed to escape from the tank through a vent, otherwise the pressure would injure or destroy the tank.

The Standard Oil tank consists of a balloon which captures the escaping gas during the day and gives it back to the tank at night, so that the same gas is breathed over and over again without loss. The process was worked out by Robert E. Wilford, H. W. Atwell, E. P. Brown and E. W. Cheneck, of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

King Presents Colors

To Welsh Guards

These Bear Record of War History of Regiment

New colors were recently presented to the Welsh Guards. For the ten years since the formation of the regiment the Welsh Guards have carried colors on which no name of a battle has been emblazoned, but at a picturesque service at Windsor Castle, the King presented them with new colors that are a record of their glorious war history. The King said: "Ten years ago, when your regiment was raised, I presented its first colors at Buckingham Palace. Shortly after that period the regiment was called upon to fight for its country, and today its noble deeds in the Great War are inscribed upon your colors."

Wants To Establish
Own Medical Register

Irish Free State Has Sounded Death Knell of Profession

The death knell of the medical profession in the Irish Free State has been sounded, in the opinion of many doctors, by an announcement of the government's intention to establish a separate and independent medical register and cut loose from the British General Medical Council, by which the medical faculty of Ireland hitherto has been controlled. The general reaction of the decision, which is to become effective next February, will be that doctors qualifying in the Free State will be unable to practice in Great Britain or Northern Ireland, while physicians from those places will be barred from Southern Ireland.

The government's decision, however, must be ratified by the Irish Parliament, and medical men, it is stated, will seek to obtain majorities against the proposal both in the senate and Dail Eireann.

President Cosgrave had issued an explanatory statement, seeking to allay the fears of those opposing the bill. Admitting there may be temporary disadvantages from the arrangement, he says, the government does not expect any serious reactions.

"It is incompatible with our constitutional status," he adds, "that an imperial profession have its centre of gravity and disciplinary headquarters in another country."

Reaches Top Record

68,000 Auto Licenses Issued in Saskatchewan This Year

Up to and including this year, 68,000 private auto licenses have been issued in Saskatchewan, according to reports of P. W. Kerr, provincial license inspector. This is an increase of approximately 4,000 over the record number issued in 1924. The license issued this year to date number 5,990. Mr. Kerr estimated that lively and desirous licensees issued so far would total approximately 1,500 each.

Transferring of licenses from one car to another is another matter, he said, in changing cars, the owners must secure a transfer of license through the department. The more transfer of the license plates from one car to another is not sufficient. Persons who do not see to the proper transfer of the license are actually driving the new car without a license Mr. Kerr pointed out.

Many people are under a false impression as to the issuing of half-price licenses. Mr. Kerr said. These are not issued on and after July 1, but any person purchasing a car after October 1 may secure a license at half-price, but must furnish an affidavit that the car had not been used in the province prior to that date.

Find Moscow Very Dull

Foreign Envoys Do Not Have Much Social Life

To relieve the tedium of life among the foreign diplomats and newspaper correspondents, the Moscow Government has adopted the expedient of giving free theatrical entertainments once a month. Early in June a distinguished gathering of ambassadors, consuls and Soviet commissars were the guests of the Soviet Government at a concert given at the State Opera House, which was featured by ballet and operatic soloists and vocal solos by Bolshevik Russia's best artists. Moscow has never seen so many fine limousines since the days of the Czar. The flags of all nations were seen, the French tricolor being especially conspicuous.

It was believed the arrival of Jean Herbet, the new French ambassador, would relieve the dullness that pervades the foreign envoys, but the hopes of those who sought greater social activity and gaiety have disappeared. The French ambassador and his wife live modestly at the former house of the Russian Relief Mission, and already have adopted the Russian habit of not wearing hats when out, but their colleagues in the diplomatic missions.

Had Learned To Be Brief

A member of the Scottish General Assembly who prides himself in articulating brevity to the young mind, is telling a good story against himself.

His son, who has returned to finish his summer vacation at his home, about started, if not gratified, him with a few words: "S. O. S., S. S. D., S. S. Y. P. E." The lad had no other words to distinguish himself in reply to an anxious letter as to his final examination.

"Thank you, dear S. S. D., for which the anxious parent found to convey, 'Borrowed money, labor ended, Jordan passed.'—Exchange.

Is Entitled To Crow's Nest Tariff

Calgary Transportation Expert Says Rates Should Apply to Peace River

That the Peace River is entitled to the benefit of the Crow's Nest rates on grain and flour, without further action by the government, is the opinion of William Hume, local transportation expert, and chairman of the transportation committee of the Calgary board of trade.

This opinion puts the present situation in the north in a new light, as the general impression is abroad that reduction of rates to move this year's grain crop on the E.D. and B.C. would be a matter of negotiation between the government and the C.P.R. "It is absolutely positive that the Crow's Nest freight rates should apply to the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia line, as well as to any other in the west," declared Mr. Hume. "I know that the recommendations made by the provincial board of trade who recently met in Edmonton, to the Dominion railway commission, took it simply for granted that the E.D. and B.C. would benefit from the Crow rates just as the other prairie lines. It certainly would be unfair to suggest anything else."

Free Insulin

New Government Policy to be Administered in Alberta

Free insulin supplies will be provided by the Alberta department of health in cases where the patients are not able to otherwise secure them. Hon. George Hoadley, minister of health, announces this as a new government policy to be administered through the department. The minister's attention to the matter was by the editor of the Hana Herald, who reported a number of cases in need of treatment but unable to meet the cost. It has now been decided to provide insulin for all such cases making application, and supplies will be sent out from the health department in Edmonton. Each application will be received and dealt with on its merits and necessary investigation as to medical diagnosis and financial circumstances will be made before issuing the supplies. Alberta will in this way be adopting a similar course to that already taken by the province of Ontario.

Canada Interested in Radio

Saskatchewan Stands Second to Ontario in Number of Licenses Issued

Canada spent $56,614,750 on radio equipment in 1924. In 1925, public interest in radio broadcasting, and the consequent demand for apparatus has created a new industry. A report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics shows that the production of radio sets and parts in Canada last year amounted to $3,201,163. Radio licenses were issued by the department of marine and fisheries during the 12 months ending March, 1925, to 25,956 persons. Ontario led all provinces with a total of 41,847. Saskatchewan took 9,263, Manitoba 8,533, British Columbia 6,465, and Alberta 5,813.

Venice May Lose Isolation

Automobile Road Will Connect Island With Rest of Italy

Loss of the isolation which the city of Venice, as an island, has enjoyed for centuries is threatened by the arrangements which have been completed for the construction of an automobile road connecting Venice with Padua. Later, it is planned to join this road to the Padua-Milan road. The importance of this project arises from the fact that hitherto the city of Venice has never been joined by road to the rest of Italy, the only communication being by boat or by train crossing by means of a pontoon bridge.

Amundsen Plans New Polar Expedition For Next Summer

The Aften Posten, Oslo, Norway, states Captain Amundsen, since his arrival home from his recently attempted flight to the North Pole, has been preparing a new aeroplane expedition for next summer, from Spitzbergen over the Pole and unknown Arctic regions to Alaska. The newspaper states figures which have been secured and the expedition will include Lincoln Ellsworth, who was with Amundsen's party this summer.

Made Productive By Irrigation

Situation of the country, a district which has changed from a comparatively barren cattle raising country to a productive fruit raising area by irrigation, Kelowna, was the scene of the 1925 state fair. The fair was the Western Canada Irrigation Association. Delegates from British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, as well as representatives of the railways, governments, etc., were in attendance.

In Mourning For

Sir William Petersen

Ship Will Display Broad Ribbon Mark For Six Months

Montreal has, for the first time, seen a ship in mourning. It was the Rio Borado, of the Peterson Line. As she steamed up the St. Lawrence, the now famous "corrugated ship" was conspicuous for a broad blue band painted all about the hull about four feet below the top deck. This ribbon mark formerly was white, and it will remain blue for six months as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Sir William Petersen, head of the line, who died suddenly on a visit in connection with the proposed ship subsidy plan.

Captain R. Hockin, who gave evidence before the ocean rate committee in the House of Commons in praise of the "corrugated" ship experiment, in command. He reported his vessel continued to live up to her record for speed on a 60 per cent. consumption of fuel.

Ancient Human Culture

Interesting Discoveries Are Made By the Asiatic Expeditions

Extensive evidence of the human culture in Mongolia 12,000 or more years ago has been unearthed by the third Asiatic Expedition of the American Museum of Natural History, according to a cable from the leader, Roy Chapman Andrews, received by The Asias.

Among the other results reported are the discovery of 40 dinosaur eggs, ten million years old, dinosaur skeletons and skulls, the pre-mongol human skeletons, remains of ancient animals and a large collection of the prehistoric dwellers of the Asian plateau.

Slavery Still Practiced

League of Nations Recommends Universal Abolition of System

Slavery is openly practiced in several Asiatic Mohammedan states, particularly in the Arabian peninsula, including the kingdom of the Hedjaz, where many slaves are girls who come from the Far East as pilgrims to Mecca, and are kept in payment of the right to the pursue slave dealers. The league commission suggests the prohibition of compulsory labor except for public works, for which there must be adequate pay.

The commission recommends universal abolition of the legal status of slavery, and would give every slave the right to freedom with payment of money. It suggests the establishment of a concentration point to which freed slaves may be sent pending their return to the country of their origin and also recommends the extension of the right to the pursue slave dealers.

DAREE, SON OF KAZAN

A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

"DAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitaphone Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog.
Is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

Pierrot, the half-breed trapper, and Nepeese, his daughter, were hunting when they saw Barce. Barce was half-dog, half-wolf, but it was the wolf in him that Nepeese saw and drew to, but her aim was bad. Barce had just seen Nepeese, the ermine, all but kill a porcupine, and he himself finished the bird and feasted upon it. After he had finished the ermine away. The dog was only a few weeks old and was having his first exciting adventures.

"Teli Moosli!" gasped Nepeese, in her fear.
Pierrot caught the rifle from her. "Teli!" A dog—a puppy?" he cried.

He started on a run for Barce. But in their excitement they had lost a few seconds and Barce's head was turning. He saw them clearly as they came across the open—a new kind of monster of the forest! With a final wail he darted back into the deep shadows of the forest. It was almost sunset, and he ran for the thick gloom of the heavy spruce near the creek. He hid himself at the sight of the bear and the moose, but for the first time he saw the real meaning of danger. And it was close after him. He could hear the crashing of the two-legged beasts in pursuit; strange cries were almost at his heels—and then suddenly he plunged without warning into a hole.

It was a shock to have the earth go out from under his feet like that, but Barce did not yell. The wolf was dominant in him again. He urged him to remain where he was, making no more, no sound—scarcely breathing. The voices were over him; the strange feet almost stumbled in the hole where he lay. Looking out of the dark hiding place, he could see one of his enemies. It was Nepeese, the Willow. She was standing so that a last glow of the day fell upon her face. Barce did not take his eyes from her. Above his pain there rose in him a strange and thrilling fascination. The girl put her two hands to her mouth, and in a voice that was soft and plaintive and unashamedly admitting to his terrified little heart, cried:

"Uchmoo—Uchmoo—Uchmoo!"
And then he heard another voice; and this voice, too, was far less terrible than many voices he had listened to in the forests.

"We cannot find him, Nepeese," the voice was saying. "He has crawled off to die. It is too bad. Come."

When Barce had heard and pointed to the open, Pierrot passed and pointed to a birch sapling that had been cut clean off by the Willow's bullet. Nepeese understood. The sapling, no larger than her thumb, had turned her shot a trifle and had saved Barce from instant death.

She turned again and called:
"Uchmoo—Uchmoo—Uchmoo!"

Her eyes were no longer filled with the thrill of slaughter.

"He would not understand that," said Pierrot, "leading the way across the open. It is wild—born of the wolves. Perhaps he was the Koomoi lead-bitch, who ran away to him with the packs last winter."

"And he will die."
"Ayeyun—ye, he will die."

But Barce had no idea of dying. He was too young a youngster to be shocked to death by a bullet passing through the soft flesh of his fore-leg. That was what had happened. His leg was torn to the bone, but the bone itself was untouched. He was not hurt at all. He had not been hurt before he crawled out of his hole.

In this horror Barce came, an hour later, out of the heavy timber of the creek-bottom into the more open spaces of a small plain that ran along the foot of a ridge. It was in this plain that Oohoomsaw hunted. Oohoomsaw was a huge snow-wolf. He was the patriarch among all the owls of Pierrot's trapping domain. He was so old that he was almost blind, and therefore he never hunted as other owls hunted. He did not hide himself in the black cover of spruce and balsam tops, or float softly through the night, ready in an instant to swoop down upon his prey. His eyesight was so poor that from a spruce top he could not have seen a rabbit at all, or he might have mistaken a fox for a mouse.

Even if Barce could have seen under the dark brush, and had discovered Oohoomsaw ready to dart from his ambush, it is not likely that he would have gone very far aside. His own fighting blood was up. He too, was ready for war.

time nearly every creature of the wild as soon as it is able to care for itself—nature's scheme, perhaps, for doing away with too close family relations and possibly dangerous interbreeding. Barce, like the young wolf looking for new hunting grounds, or the young fox discovering a new world, had no reason or method in his wandering. He was simply "travelling"—going on without something which he could not find. The wolf-note brought it to him.

The stars and the moon filled Barce with a yearning for this something. The distant sounds impinged upon him with great solemnity. And instinct told him that only by questing could he find. It was not so much Kazan and Gray Wolf that he missed now—not so much motherhood and home as it was companionship.

Barce did not travel far that night. The fact that his wound had come with dusk, and his fight with Oohoomsaw still later, filled him with a sense of foreboding. He knew that the dark shadows and the black pits in the forest were possible ambushes of danger. He was no longer afraid, as he had once been, but he had had fighting enough for a time, and so he accepted circumspection as the better part of valor and held himself aloof from the peril of darkness. It was a strange instinct that made him seek his bed on the top of a huge rock upon which he had some difficulty in climbing.

Had Remarkable Career

Negro Potato King, Once a Slave, Dies Rich

From slavery to riches was the achievement of J. O. Groves, known as the "Negro Potato King of Kansas," who died near Edwardsville, Kas., recently.

He was 65 years old. Groves was born in slavery in Green County, Kentucky, in 1853. When the slaves were freed he learned to read and write, and in 1875 came to Kansas, where he worked on a farm at 40 cents a day. Later the owner of the farm rented Groves 10 acres of ground. At his death he owned a 533-acre farm, beside 1,600 acres of wheat land.

Groves' title of "Potato King" came from the success he had in raising potatoes. In one year on 295 acres he produced 72,150 bushels of white potatoes.

THE ONE SURE WAY TO GOOD HEALTH

Is Keeping the Blood Pure By Using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Impure, weak blood is the cause of most of the troubles that afflict people. This is the cause of the weakness of feeling of languor and faintness, pains in the back and side, headaches, nervousness, and all the ailments that afflict women and make her daily life a torture.

To get new health and strength the blood must be purified. What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do in cases of this kind is told by Mrs. Augusta Emery, Woodford station, Ark., who says: "Living on the prairie, and knowing that there are thousands of women like myself in need of a doctor, I want to tell them what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me."

After my first baby was born I seemed to have little energy. I felt weary all the time. I think this was due to the ordinary household duties. I felt I needed a tonic and as I had long been a sufferer from blood troubles, I decided to try them. I got a supply and carefully followed the directions and before very long the result was wonderful. Day by day I regained my former strength and energy. This result is due to the fact that I kept my blood pure by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"John," said Farmer Brown, "if you don't mind, I wish you'd cut off by yourself instead of with the summer work. You've got to be a good boy."

"Why, 'em," said John, "my manners good enough for 'em."

"Tain't that, John, but your appetite sets 'em a terrible example."

South African Native Ancient Human Type Anatomists Greatly Interested in Find at Capetown

South Africa has yielded another cranial curiosity which is attracting attention among anatomists and antiquarians almost equal to that aroused by the discovery early this year of a fossilized skull at Taunus, Bechuanaland, described at the time as representing something midway between man and the great apes.

When the body of a native was discovered at the anatomical school of Capetown University, it was found to have a typical "bush" skull, virtually identical with that discovered in the fossil in 1913 and traced to the ice age of probably 35,000 years back.

Anatomists emphasize the interest and importance of the recurrence of a type of man hitherto unknown except in fossil remains.

Power From Subterranean Steam

Harnessing Reservoirs of Heat in Interior of the Earth

With the rapid dwindling of the world's natural resources in stored fuel—coal, oil and gas—engineers and scientists in recent months have been turning to the problem of tapping and harnessing the vast reservoir of heat in the interior of the earth.

The latest plan, one of the most elaborate, developed by Rudolf Lamme, a German engineer, is described in the September issue of Popular Science Monthly. It proposes drilling two shafts, one straight, the other with a number of rectangular bends, to a depth of three miles. This depth is about 2 1/2 times that of the deepest shafts ever drilled. Both shafts lead to a large subterranean chamber cut out of solid rock.

If we estimate that with every 100 feet downward the temperature rises one degree Centigrade, the temperature at the base of that chamber would be approximately 320 degrees Fahrenheit.

At a depth of three miles the air atmosphere, are about 30 pounds to the square inch. The boiling point of water, which is forced into the chamber by pressure of the column of water above. In the high temperature of the chamber the steam is superheated and expanded. It seeks an outlet through the straight shaft to the chamber by pressure of the column of water above.

From a reservoir on the surface, water is sent down through a pipe that follows the bends and turns of the stepped shaft to the chamber at the bottom. As the water rushes downward, it becomes gradually hotter, and at a depth of nearly two miles it returns to steam, which is forced into the chamber by pressure of the column of water above.

In the high temperature of the chamber the steam is superheated and expanded. It seeks an outlet through the straight shaft to the chamber by pressure of the column of water above.

Reaching the surface, the superheated steam is distributed first to the turbines of a light and power station, then to various industrial establishments and to residences and public buildings where it is used for heating purposes.

The energy to be derived from a plant of this description, of course, depends on the volume of water available. Assuming that a constant flow of 13 cubic yards a second is obtainable, as it is in many existing hydraulic power plants, the potential energy made available by heating this volume of water to 320 degrees Fahrenheit would be equal to nearly 3,000,000 kilowatts a day, representing an economic value equal to 70,000 tons of coal a day.

Destroy London's Stray Animals Fifteen Hundred Cats and Dogs Electrocuted Every Week

During the past 12 1/2 years 437,429 cats and 31,215 dogs have been painfully put to death at the headquarters of the Animal Rescue League in City Road, Islington, E.C., and the rate is now about 1,500 per week.

The executioner-in-chief, as she humorously describes herself, is an elderly woman, Miss Clegg, who, as the manageress, superintends the destruction of the animals as they are brought to her from all parts of London by six lieutenants, all women over 50 years of age, who scour districts every day for unwanted cats and dogs.

The animals are killed by electrocution, death being instant. The cats are laid in the drawer of an apparatus resembling a table, with one end of the wire on top, and the dogs, before receiving the current, are fitted with a collar connected with a switch, through which the current passes.

Married MORRIS-BURRELL

The Union Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding of much interest to Coleman people on Friday evening, August 21st, when Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Burrell, Coleman, became the bride of Mr. Robert Morris, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morris, Kingsest, Scotland. The Rev. D. K. Allan officiated.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the sweet strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. G. R. Powell. The bride looked charming in a white crepe de chene dress with veil to match, and carried a bouquet of roses and sweetpeas. She was attended by her sister, Miss Nellie Burrell, who wore a sand georgette dress with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of carnations and sweetpeas.

The groom was attended by Mr. Robert Davidson. The ushers were Mr. Matthew Burrell, brother of the bride and Mr. S. S. Gillies, a cousin of Mr. Davidson.

After the ceremony a large number of invited guests adjourned to the K. of P. hall where a dainty wedding supper was served. A very enjoyable dance followed, the music being supplied by Mrs. P. Stokes and Mr. James Russell.

The contracting parties are both well known and highly respected young people of Coleman, and The Journal joins their many friends in wishing them a long and happy married life. Mr and Mrs Morris will reside in Coleman.

Coal Camps Strong For The New Union

Mr. J. D. Gillis, secretary of the district organization of Mine Workers Union of Canada, returned to Coleman on Monday from a tour of the various locals comprising the district, and he reports all camps are whole-hearted in their support of the organization and are very well pleased with the manner in which the policy of the new union is working out.

According to reports received locally, it is only a matter of a short time until the camps at Cadogan, Luscar and Mountain Park in the north, will automatically drop out of the old organization and become affiliated with the Canadian union.

McLaren Lumber Co. Shift Camps to McGillivray Creek

Town Tax Rate 46 Mills

At the last meeting of the town council the mill rate for 1925 was struck at 46 mills on the dollar. This is the third consecutive year that the city fathers have held the rate at this figure. The relief measures last winter together with the many local improvements undertaken during the season have been a heavy drain on the town's exchequer and it is fortunate indeed that it has not been found necessary to advance the tax rate.

The Salt Has Lost Its Savor

The secret of the sudden appearance of the newest Alberta weekly newspaper is solved.

Apparently without visible means of support (it carried no advertising) The Western news has proved a doughty supporter of the Alberta government.

It seems, however, that the printing office from which the News emanates secured $80,000 printing orders from the government in the past few months.

With this information to hand the salt loses some of its savor.—Bessano Mail.
